2-Day Suspension

U.S. Lifts Cuba Arms Blockade For Thant Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States temporarily lifted its arms blockade of Cuba today while U.N. officials prepared to undertake delicate Havana negotiations with Fidel Castro on dismantling Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

U.S. officials awaited analysis of new reconnaissance photos that may tell whether Soviet technicians have started pulling down those bases which almost brought on American military action.

The Navy's ships and planes suspended the six-day-old blockade for two days as dawn broke across the wide area they are patrolling in the Atlantic around Communist Cuba.

The blockading force remained on station, ready to resume the quarantine if ordered to do so.

The White House announced the suspension Monday night and said it was being done at the request of U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant. The U.N. official heads for Havana for talks with Fidel Castro on proposed U.N. supervision of the missile removal as agreed to by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

As a practical matter, the lifting of the quarantine for the time being means little. No Soviet ships were reported near the quarantine zone, and the Defense Department indicated that all those suspected of bearing offensive weapons to Cuba had already disappeared from the scene.

Informed government sources reported Monday night that U.S. destroyers and aircraft had detected and trailed more than two Soviet submarines for about two days last week in the quarantine area.

The Soviet craft were trailed until they surfaced and recharged their batteries, then went their way without incident, the sources said. The Soviet subs were traveling separately, informants indicated.

With a Soviet fleet of some 400 submarines roaming the world's seas, it is not unusual for American naval units to make contact with them, particularly in Atlantic waters off the U.S. East Coast.

By all the signs, the U.S. action has been fully successful in choking off the flow of any more Soviet missiles, bombers or other offensive weapons into Castro's Cuba.

These flights were intended to gather photographic evidence off whether the Russians yet are living up to Khrushchev's pledge to take down the missile bases menacing the United States.

Thant To Seek Swift Accord In Cuba Crisis

To Make Sure Mr. K Keeps Pledge About Dismantling Bases

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, said today before leaving for Cuba that he was going "with a view of achieving a speedy and peaceful settlement" of the Cuban crisis.

Red China Rejected On U.N. Seat Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Red China suffered a resounding defeat today when the General Assembly rejected its latest U.N. membership bid by a bigger margin than a year ago.

Thant paused only briefly to make the statement before boarding a chartered jet at Idlewild Airport.

It was in response to a single question as to whether he was confident of the success of his mission.

"I am looking forward to a fruitful exchange of ideas with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and other Cuban leaders with a view to achieving a speedy and peaceful settlement of the problem," he said.

Thant was accompanied by a U.N. team as he left to set up machinery for a U.N. check to make sure Soviet Premier Khrushchev keeps his pledge to remove Soviet missile bases from Cuban soil.

In preparation for his trip, Thant held another round of talks Monday with top diplomats of the United States, Soviet Union and Cuba.

The way for Thant's visit was smoothed by the White House announcement that at the secretary-general's request it would lift the U.S. naval blockade during his stay.

Ware Contract Talks Started At Cincinnati

Contract negotiations between labor and management in the dinnerware industry open today at the Terrace-Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati.

Representatives of the U. S. Pottery Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will seek to work out a new contract to replace a two-year agreement that expires Nov. 30. Seventeen proposals have been filed by the two sides.

The contract covers four East Liverpool area plants and four others in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Congress Race 'Tops' In Hancock

3 Courthouse Jobs At New Cumberland On Nov. 6 Ballot

When Hancock County voters receive their ballots next Tuesday, chances are that many will look first for one of two names most prominent in the campaigning—Bailey or Moore.

They won't have to look far with Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D) of Clarksburg and Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. (R) of Moundsville drawing the top positions on the "short" ballot.

Although three Courthouse jobs are at stake, most of the political attention since the May primary has been focused on the appearances of Bailey and Moore in the Northern Panhandle.

Hancock voters will share with 12 other counties in a decision on who wins the 1st District congressman's seat.

Rep. Moore, 39, has for four years represented the counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Wetzel, Taylor and Marion.

Rep. Bailey, 78, has represented for a number of years the counties of Braxton, Calhoun, Doddridge, Gilmer, Harrison and Lewis.

The incumbent legislators were pitted this year by the enlargement of Rep. Moore's 1st District to include counties in Rep. Bailey's old 3rd District.

A loss of population brought about the redistricting, causing a reduction of from six to five congressional seats. Both candidates have waged strong campaigns in the Northern Panhandle.

County voters will also have their first chance since 1934 to express their views on liquor control in an election.

The "Alcoholic Liquor Control Amendment" is one of five amendments to the state constitution at issue. It would authorize the State Legislature to legalize liquor by the drink. Presently, liquor is available legally only through state operated outlets.

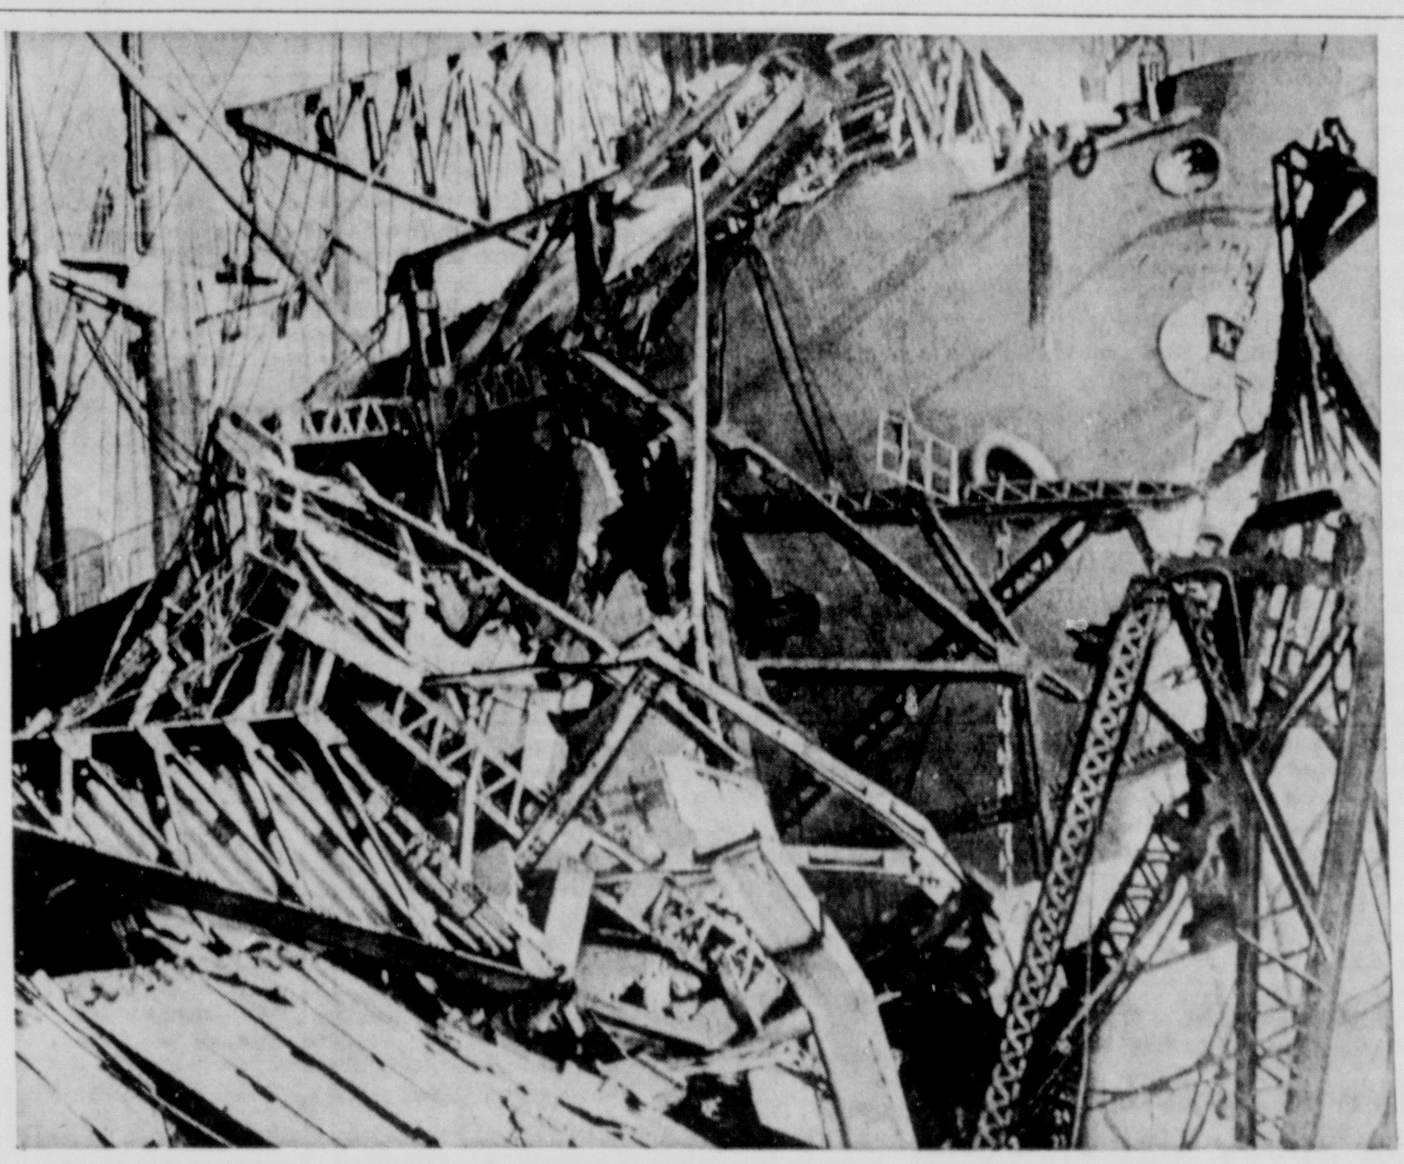

The Courthouse posts at stake are clerk of County Court, clerk of Circuit Court and county commissioner. Voters will also ballot on a member of the House of Delegates from the county.

Candidates for clerk of County Court are Donald G. Stewart of Pughtown (D), dean of the county's official family, and Edward L. Suplice of Weirton (R), former county assessor.

Stewart, 70, has been county clerk since 1932 and is seeking his sixth consecutive six-year term. He defeated Nelson Ross in the May primary, when Ross was unopposed.

The county is assured of a new clerk of Circuit Court Jan. 1. The incumbent, Lou H. Hill, 77, Democrat.

2 Killed, 30 Hurt As Truck Rams Train

California Mishap Spews Rocks, Fire Over Passengers

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Two persons died and more than 30 others were injured when a gravel truck rammed the center of a speeding train, spewing rocks and flames over screaming passengers in the coaches.

The impact broke the train in two. One car careened wildly into a trestle and a steel I-beam from the bridge railing speared into the coach.

Four cars of the seven-car San Diego, a Santa Fe train bound for San Diego, were derailed in the wreck Monday. The truck driver was burned to death. A train passenger was the other fatality.

Twenty-nine passengers were hospitalized, many with broken legs. Several others were treated at the scene and released, unidentified.

The passenger who died was a Navy recruit seated at the spot where the truck struck.

When it hit seats toppled, passengers flew through the air and rocks the size of golf balls from the truck's load rained down on the train.

"The front of the car just peeled right back like a piece of paper being rolled back and big hunks of gravel came flying in," a passenger, Army Pfc. Melvin Best, 19, said afterward. "One guy started yelling, 'goodbye' to his buddies."

The train was traveling about 65 miles an hour when the accident occurred, C. R. Robertson, assistant general manager of Santa Fe, said.

Snow Flurries To End Relatively Mild Spell

The relatively mild autumn weather of the past two days is scheduled to end with colder temperatures and scattered snow flurries by Wednesday.

Light showers with a mercury in the 58-degree range will prevail today and tonight's low will be 36 to 42 but brisk winds will blow in tomorrow with scattered snow flurries.

The downtown had a low of 37 at 6 a. m. and the mercury had climbed 2 degrees in an hour continued mounting slowly.

Council Takes Step

St. Clair Project Consent Enacted

With a 6-1 vote that indicates clear sailing for future legislative steps, City Council Monday night enacted the first enabling ordinance to open the way for a $400,000 project calling for a 36-foot wide concrete pavement on St. Clair Ave. between Princeton Ave. and the city limits.

Only five were in the audience in the special session near midnight when Council approved the ordinance formally giving the city's consent to the State Highway Department project.

COUNCILMAN Frank Duffy cast the lone dissenting vote, declaring he was not satisfied with the provision that the city would assume the responsibility for 50 per cent of the project's cost, although it was pointed out to him a $10-a-foot assessment against property-holders will raise most of the required funds.

Councilman Kenneth C. Berg, who had indicated previously he would oppose the project, went over to the affirmative side last night when the chips were down.

He said he was influenced particularly by the fact more than 51 per cent of the abutting property was represented in a property-owners' petition asking a 36-foot pavement and agreeing to an assessment of not more than $10 a front foot.

Other affirmative votes were cast by Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willsaw, Edward Massey, S. James Welch and Floyd Murray.

After brief debate, the ordinance was voted into law just three minutes before midnight. Council had been scheduled to meet at 7:30, but the meeting was delayed to arrange the attendance of several members working night shifts.

THE FEDERAL Bureau of Public Roads already has agreed to assume 50 per cent of the project's cost by making it part of its federal aid secondary system of highways.

Three letters and a petition were read into the record before the legislation was presented.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren submitted a formal report that 51.32 per cent of the abutting property was represented in a petition presented Oct. 15, asking a 36-foot pavement and agreeing to a $10 assessment.

With the petition, only four affirmative votes will be required to pass the assessing ordinance—the key to the whole project. Without a petition, at least six "yes" votes would be required.

Another petition was presented, bearing 71 signatures of property-owners who asked the city to build a 24-foot pavement, rather than a 36-foot street. The same petition objected to the $10 assessment as "excessive" and said the city should bear a larger share of the cost. It was received and filed.

DUFFY ASKED how much front footage was represented in the dissenters' petition. Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger said the total footage was not shown on the petition.

Two letters sent to Council in August, but never previously brought onto the floor, also were read before the legislation was presented.

In one, Probate Judge Louis Tobin said a State Highway Department project would be a benefit to the city.

Way Cleared For Business Area Lighting

Council Approves Resolution To Levy Business Property

Council enacted the first enabling legislation Monday night to clear the way for a new street lighting system in the downtown shopping district, for which owners of business property will pay approximately $7,000 a year.

The councilmen approved a resolution allowing the city to levy special assessments against the property - owners to pay the added cost of the program. It is designed to raise the level of illumination by more than 700 per cent.

The proposal was initiated by the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which circulated a petition in which the property-owners agreed to the additional expense over a 10-year period.

The lights will be installed on Market and Washington Sts. from 4th St. to 6th St., E. 4th St. from Market St. to Cherry Alley, 5th St. from Peach Alley to Cherry Alley and 6th St. from a point 150 feet west of Peach Alley to Washington St.

The program calls for installation of 58 four - tube fluorescent

Unanimous Vote Shown By Council

Few Posts Skipped; Retention Of Some Positions Debated

Despite a sharp debate on the need for retaining some city positions or granting pay raises to other employees, Council voted unanimously early today to give pay boosts that will cost $57,000 annually to most of the 160 municipal workers, effective Dec. 1.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray questioned some parts of the omnibus pay legislation, but voted with the other five members when the showdown came at 12:22 a. m.

A FEW city jobs were skipped, but the ordinance provides varying increases for almost every appointive worker on the payroll. No elected officials are included.

The ordinance means a 16-cent hourly raise for all city laborers and truck drivers, along with maintenance men in the street and incinerator departments.

It boosts laborers from $1.68 to $1.84 and raises truck drivers from $1.74 to $1.90. Maintenance men, who perform semi-skilled and skilled work, will be boosted from $4.50 to $4.66.

Rank - and - file members of the fire and police departments will get $45-a-month boosts, from $390 to $435. Firemen from $355 to $400. Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi and Fire Chief Charles Bryan will get $50 raises, from $450 to $500.

Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle will get a $45 raise, from $400 to $445. There is no comparable rank in the fire department.

Police lieutenants and assistant fire chiefs will be hiked $45—from $390 to $435. Firemen and police with less than six months service will draw $360. In addition, police will be paid $2.50 hourly for overtime, against the present $1.50.

HERE ARE the pay rates in the water department, listing first the present scale and then the new salary or wage:

Council Holds Stand Against Gas Rate Hike

An hour - long conference with four officials of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Monday night left Council unchanged in its stand against granting a rate increase for the

Gas Rate To Rise Quarter-Cent Dec. 1

Council conferred with Walter Betsch, vice president, and Jack Didway, both from the company's home office in Columbus; Bruce Cox, a special representative from the Steubenville office, and Harold Sneddon, local manager.

It apparently was a last - ditch effort on the part of the utility to reach a rate settlement with

Oppose Guarantees For Castro

3 In GOP Warn Of Any Missile-Removing Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Senate Republicans warned today against any Soviet missile-removal agreement that might provide a permanent sanctuary for communism in Cuba.

The Republicans said they would oppose any U.S. guarantee that Fidel Castro's Cuban government would be protected from Western Hemisphere harassment.

In agreeing Sunday to pull his missile bases out of Cuba, Soviet Premier Khrushchev told President Kennedy in a message, "I regard with respect and trust your statement that no attack will be made on Cuba, that no invasion will take place, not only by the U.S.A. but also by other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as your message pointed out."

Kennedy had messaged Khrushchev a day earlier that the United States would agree "to give assurances against an invasion of Cuba. I am confident that other nations of the Western Hemisphere would be prepared to do likewise."

Kennedy also told Khrushchev that the U.S. blockade of offensive arms shipments to Cuba would be lifted when arrangements had been worked out through the United Nations to insure the removal of the missile bases.

The White House announced Monday night that the blockade would be lifted for two days, starting today, during the Havana visit of acting U.N. Secretary General U. Thant.

City Consent Approved For St. Clair Job

partment traffic count made in 1960 showed 9,921 vehicles a day travel St. Clair. He said the figure was furnished to refute an estimate made to Council in mid-August that 4,800 vehicles used the street every 24 hours.

The state survey proves that St. Clair Ave. is "one of the most traveled routes in the county and should very much be taken into consideration both as to improvement and how the cost shall be borne," the judge wrote.

The second letter was from William H. Vodrey Jr., as secretary of the Riverview Cemetery Association, asserting that the cemetery's Executive Committee favors the improvement and the proposed assessment. The cemetery association has about 1,700 feet of frontage on St. Clair, he said.

BOTH LETTERS were received and filed.

As the legislation was presented, Berg explained the reason for the change in his stand.

"I'm going to vote for this because 51 per cent of the property is represented in the petition," he said. "I'm also considering what an asset it will be to the city in general."

"Previously I voted 'no' because I couldn't see why 110 property-owners should have to pay $10 a foot considering the type of improvement it is," Berg said. "I thought they might get additional financial assistance."

Berg added that he also took into consideration the large sums the city has spent annually to maintain the St. Clair pavement and said: "I know the improvement is needed badly."

DUFFY WAS next to speak, citing the provision in the ordinance that the city would assume the responsibility for 50 per cent of the cost.

"The ordinance says the city will pay 50 per cent of the cost," he said. "I don't like that. 'Some say it doesn't mean that, but it's in the ordinance.'"

Willshaw replied the city's share would include the assessments against the property-owners, roughly $140,000. Council President Charles N. Edwards gave a similar explanation.

"The job will cost $40 a foot," Sample said. "The city will pay $10 and the people will pay $10."

"That's the objection," Duffy said. "The people in the rest of the city paid their full share of street improvements. Why should the city pay 50 per cent here when it doesn't anywhere else."

"I DON'T believe the city is paying 50 per cent of the project," Murray said. "The property-owners will pay $10 a foot and the city will assume the balance, up to 50 per cent."

Duffy replied he would oppose the ordinance until his question "is cleared up."

Shortly afterward, the legislation was passed, Duffy dissenting. The ordinance carries an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

As is the case in all such joint projects, it spells out the responsibilities of the city and the state in the performance of the work. It lists the length of the improvement as 1.53 miles.

When the project is complete, the city will maintain the pavement. It provides that two of the three lanes will be used for inbound traffic in the morning rush period from 6 to 9. Two lanes will be set aside for outbound traffic in the afternoon rush from 3 to 6, it provides.

At all other times, parallel parking will be permitted on the west side.

fixtures, each with a rated capacity of 43,600 lumens. The present incandescent fixtures provide 6,000 lumens. Samples of the new lights were demonstrated in the Washington St.-E. 5th St. area nearly two years ago.

The $7,000 the property-owners will pay represents the difference in annual cost between the present system and the new fixtures.

The ordinance carries an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. State law will require the city to advertise for bids on the new lights, despite the fact the Ohio Power Co. is the only concern which could bid.

The assessments against the property-owners will be certified to the county auditor's office for collection on the tax duplicate, just as in the case of a street or sewer improvement.

The enabling legislation was approved unanimously and without comment. A report from City Engineer George S. Bloomgren said 61.95 per cent of the assessable frontage was represented in the property-owners' petition.

Before the legislation was presented, Councilman S. James Welch presented data on the costs of the two systems. The present 50 fixtures cost the city $4 each per month while the new lights will cost $15 each, he said. The additional cost totals $7,656 a year, subject to a two per cent discount for prompt payment of bills, he said.

In a companion measure, Council approved legislation authorizing Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to retain the Cleveland law firm of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey to aid in preparing legal papers for the proceeding.

Answering a question from Councilman Frank Duffy, Councilman George E. Willshaw said the law firm originally was retained by the merchants' group to draft the petitions. There will be no expense to the city, as the cost of the legal work will be added to the assessment, he said.

Drive Carefully On 'Spook Night,' Motorists Urged

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen today urged motorists to drive with extra caution Wednesday night, when hundreds of costumed youngsters will be making Halloween "trick or treat" rounds.

The danger of accidents will be greater because many of the youngsters, excited by the "spook night" pranks and their vision obscured by masks, will be liable to forget the danger of cars and dash into the street, the director said.

Owen also suggested that parents warn their children to exercise care to keep on sidewalks, where possible, and look carefully in both directions before crossing streets.

Light colored garments will help make the youngsters more visible in auto headlights, he added.

It's Theft, Not Magic, As Rabbits Disappear

Somebody in East End is making rabbits disappear, but it's theft, not magic, a housewife complained to police early today.

Mrs. Ruth Adkins, 1059 Monaca St., told police five rabbits have been stolen from their pens at her home, one full-grown and the others small.

Four were stolen last Wednesday and another was taken Sunday, she said in a report given police at 1:15 this morning.

Other pay raises, listing the present scale and then the new salary, are:

Parking meter repairman, $388 to $418; "Meter Maids," $1.37 to $1.48 hourly; junior engineer, $1.70 to $1.95 per hour; electrician, $436 to $466; park superintendent, $300 to $330; daytime City Hall janitor, $342 to $350; other janitors, $305 to $320.

Dog warden, $100 to $120; incinerator superintendent, $420 to $450; street foreman, $440 to $470; assistant foreman, $1.89 to $2.05 hourly; sewer superintendent, $500 to $530; sewer inspector, $385 to $415; sewer plant operator, $315 to $345; income tax supervisor, $434 to $450; clerk, $250 to $258; Civil Service clerk, $300 to $450 per year; relief department director, $322 to $335, and Municipal Court clerk, $4,040 to $4,500 annually.

BEFORE THE legislation was presented, Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, read a statement to Council asserting the ordinance "was not easy to prepare." He said the committee contacted other cities, business establishments, schools and professional people in attempting to decide upon a fair wage rates for the employees.

Although some employees perhaps will be underpaid despite the raise, the committee also "found many positions are in line with industry and a few a little on the heavy side," Willshaw said.

He said the committee was opposed to "taking the easy way" and granting a flat percentage increase, feeling this would be unfair to workers in the lower brackets. The committee hopes that future increases can be considered on a job classification basis, Willshaw said.

EMPLOYEES WHO are dissatisfied may approach Council through their department heads to request consideration for their particular case, Willshaw added.

The check with other cities showed that the police and fire department salaries "were more out of line than any other department," Willshaw said. The rates of police and firemen here were the lowest of any of 15 Ohio cities checked, he said. Despite the raise, the patrolmen and firemen still will be lower paid than in a majority of the cities checked, he said.

Willshaw also replied to a statement issued last week by City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, who said more study should be given some of the raises, terming some warranted and others unwarranted.

"Had the committee known he was qualified, we would have asked him to evaluate some of the positions in question during his spare time," Willshaw said. "We agree ability and efficiency are prime factors in any wage increase. This explains, at times, a small spread between positions, employee vs. elected official."

WILLSHAW also questioned a statement by the auditor that the city's income from some sources was $46,000 lower in 1961 than in 1960.

"According to figures presented to this committee by his office, the total receipts from property tax and other sources in 1961 were $491,594, while in 1960, they amounted to $468,560, or $33,033 more in 1961," he said. "The 1960 figure also includes a final tax settlement of $19,852 which should have been received in December 1959 from Lisbon but was not received until January 1960."

Willshaw added that 1960 and 1961 were the only two years he can recall in which the general fund ended the year in the red.

"It is the duty of the finance committee and city auditor to work together to be sure no financial obligations are accepted by the city that cannot be met," he said. "If the auditor has any question as to the availability of funds to meet the recommended wage increase, we will be glad to discuss it with him."

MURRAY WAS first to take the floor when the wage ordinance was presented.

"I can see where the money is coming from for next year, but after that I don't know," he said. "A few months ago, Mr. Duffy and I asked for economy in city jobs, but we ran into a stone wall. I haven't changed my mind."

Duffy, next to speak, questioned the necessity of "paying $5,400 a year for somebody to watch them dump garbage," referring to the post of Incinerator Supt. John Melvin.

"The mayor could supervise that department and the assistant could run the dump," he said. Duffy also called for elimination of the job of Sewer Inspector Floyd Tice.

"The men on the street and some of the others need raises," Duffy added. "I will vote for this for that reason. But I protest against some of these raises." Closing, he called for elimination of the "Meter Maid" jobs.

COUNCILMAN S. James Welch said he believes Council owes the committee a vote of thanks for its work on the ordinance.

"I know many hours' work went into this ordinance," he said. "I might not agree with one or two of these raises, but I realize the rest of the employees are entitled to a raise. I think the committee did a very good job."

After the ordinance was read, Murray took the floor again.

"I still feel the city is playing Santa Claus with the taxpayers' money," he said. He cited raises given the relief director and then turned to the income tax office supervisor's job, asserting that "it could be eliminated."

He added that he feels the dog warden's former salary of $100 a month was adequate because the job is part-time. He also called for the elimination of the sewer inspector's job.

"I believe the top people in the water department make good money," Murray continued. But, he said, the water department maintenance men might have been given larger boosts. He also questioned the varying pay rates of the day and night janitors, asserting night workers generally are paid more than those on the day shift.

REFERRING to the "Meter Maids," Murray said he feels their former salary was "ample." Grader and sweeper operators in the street department should be paid more than truck drivers and sign painters should draw higher pay than laborers, he said.

"I will support the ordinance only because I feel the police, street, fire and incinerator employees deserve a raise," he said.

Replying to Murray, Willshaw said the relief director is paid out of state funds, not city money. In connection with the tax supervisor's post, he said the post here "is underpaid compared to other cities."

Councilman Edward Massey, next to speak, referred to the so-called "economy committee" on possible job eliminations, of which Duffy and Murray were members.

"So far, Council has never received a report from this committee," he said. "All its meetings were of a public nature. The committee should meet privately and formulate a report, then present it for Council action."

Massey added that the finance committee will ask formation of a special committee "to adjust any wage inequities, where possible."

"We didn't go into this blindly; we spent a lot of time on it," he said.

DUFFY, replying to Massey, said the economy committee held public meetings "so the people would know what was going on." He said department heads were invited to the meetings, also, but they did not attend.

Thief Gets Woman's Purse Containing $14

Mrs. Jessie Patterson of 3 Thompson Pl. told police her pocketbook containing $14 was wrested from her grasp Monday night about 8:30 as she walked south on College St.

In addition to the cash, the purse contained a pair of glasses and personal papers, Mrs. Patterson said. She reported the theft to Patrolman Paul Burson. Patrolmen L. E. Richard and Jack Strobel investigated.

What is a Sunday necessity?

Ohio's current controversy over revision of Sunday sales laws stems from that question.

The issue comes to a head Nov. 6 when voters decide whether they want the state constitution changed to say commerce will be permitted on the Sabbath in listed commodities, products and services.

IT WILL BE the only constitutional amendment proposal on election ballots this fall.

Sponsors of the amendment claim adoption would end uncertainties in enforcement and court interpretations of the state's so-called Blue Laws, dating back 131 years. Courts consistently have upheld a constitutional ban on Sunday labor and commerce carrying exemptions for "work of necessity or charity." But they have differed in decisions involving the "work of necessity" exemption.

AS A RESULT of sporadic local enforcement drives, merchants have been convicted in one community for Sunday sale of the same item which led to a not guilty verdict in another.

The 1959 legislature made changes to update the statutes and eliminate ambiguities. But attorneys claim that did not remove all legal clouds. Two cases since the latest revisions now are pending in the Ohio Supreme Court.

The revised code reads: "No person, firm or corporation shall engage in commerce on Sunday or suffer or permit a building or place to be open for transaction of business, or require a person in his employ or under his control to engage in building labor or to open a building or place for the transaction of business on Sunday . . ."

This section does not apply to work of necessity or charity, and does not extend to persons who conscientiously observe the Sabbath of the week as the Sabbath, and abstain therefrom from doing things prohibited on Sunday.

This section does not apply to: • Traveling or the providing of services and commodities incidental thereto. • Recreation, sports, amusements, entertainment or exhibitions or the providing of services and commodities incidental thereto. • Fairs held under the authority of the state or a political subdivision, or independent fairs, or the providing of services and commodities incidental thereto.

The operation of publicly owned places of entertainment, recreation or education, by a public officer, concessionaire, exhibitor or employee of all or any of them, or any person or the providing of services and commodities incidental thereto.

The lettered section re-pealed the following: "This section does not prevent emigrating families from traveling, watermen from landing their passengers, or keepers of toll bridges, tollgates or ferries from attending them on Sunday."

The 1959 legislature also repealed a long-standing ban on Sunday fishing, unenforced for many years.

The cases pending in the State Supreme Court involve the arrest of Lawson Milk Co. managers in Elyria and Euclid on the same Sunday last year.

BOTH ASKED customers to sign forms saying their purchases were in connection with entertainment, recreation, sports, travel, amusements or necessities.

The purchases included milk in both stores.

Euclid Municipal Court said Manager John MacGillis was not guilty but an appellate court said he should have been convicted. Elyria Municipal Court convicted Manager Robert Gilfether and an appellate court affirmed.

No decision on either appeal to the high court is expected until after the November vote on the constitutional amendment.

THE LAWSON firm, operating a chain of retail stores dealing mainly in milk, bakery and so-called convenience items, like prepared meats, circulated petitions to place the proposed Sunday laws revision before voters in an estimated half-million-dollar campaign.

The proposed change, for approval or rejection by voters, carries Sunday exemptions for:

• Gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public means of transportation or other public utility service or product; newspapers, other news publications, radio, television or other public communication service; household fuels; motor fuels and lubricant for automotive vehicles; prescription and proprietary drugs, and household medical supplies; products used for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products, any food item or food product for human or animal consumption.

Lawson attorneys stress the change would not repeal Sunday laws but, instead, oppose the constitutional change.

Executive Secretary John C. Mahaney Jr. said the VAA's plan has been endorsed by churches.

Present Statute 'Too Vague'

New Sunday Closing Law Needed-Koplin

Municipal Judge Nathan Koplin, who recently found four persons guilty of violating Ohio's Sunday closing law, favors an overhaul of the statute.

"All is confusion and chaos," Koplin said, "because the law can be interpreted so many different ways."

"WHEN a law is unpopular, I think it should be refined and redefined," Koplin said at the Community and National Issues luncheon Monday at the University of Akron.

He pointed out that the constitutionality of the law no longer was in question. The U. S. Supreme Court, in a 5-4 decision last year, ruled that Sunday closing laws were secular, rather than religious in nature, and therefore not a violation of the Constitutional provision for separation of church and state.

But Koplin said Ohio's law erred because it was not clear, particularly where it states "work of necessity" may be performed on Sunday.

This leaves up to individual officials in hundreds of communities the decision as to what is work of necessity.

Sunday, they may be visible, with liberty and justice for all."

Editorials Silly Campaign

An organization known as the Voters Action Association is going all out to defeat November passage of a proposed Ohio "Blue Law" amendment.

The VAA says it will "organize local citizens to carry on the fight throughout the state." News releases pushing opposition to the proposed amendment carry the stirring slogan "Let's Keep Sunday!"

But why all the excitement over the amendment that has been sparked by the Lawson Milk Co.?

What would the amendment actually do? The items Lawson's proposes to legalize for Sunday sale or operation are these:

• Natural gas transmission, electricity, telephone, public transportation and other utilities; newspapers, radio, television and other communications service; household fuels; motor fuels and

• Prescriptions; proprietary drugs and medical supplies; products for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products and any food item or food product for human or animal consumption.

Can opponents to the amendment really be serious in their claims that the amendment as outlined above would constitute a threat to Ohioans?

A blue ribbon prize for silly statements should go to John C. Mahaney Jr., VAA secretary, who says this: "Sunday, as we know it, will cease to exist if this amendment is passed. The amendment will have the effect of changing our traditional day of rest to a seventh business day."

Come now, Mr. Mahaney, let's get serious. Ohio's Sunday Closing law is utterly ridiculous and it is unbelievable that you are not aware of that fact.

In today's world, they add up to total nonsense. The fracas over them in the courts is not adding anything to the public's respect for courts, or for law enforcement.

Courts are supposed to clarify laws, and you're not supposed to laugh at what happens in them, but some of the decisions on Sunday closing, sticking to the letter of the law and ducking reality, are really laughable.

The 100-year-old blue laws were based on the old-fashioned religious doctrine that any sort of work on Sunday was immoral. Today, few except those fanatically devoted to literalism, believe this. Custom has repealed the old code, and most people engage in recreation of all sorts on Sunday, and can't see why they should be prevented from making purchases, too, if it's convenient or desirable. Sunday to them is about the same as Saturday, since the five-day week became just about universal.

Business Backing Enforcement

Anybody knows that the pressure for enforcement is mainly sparked by commercial interests, and not by churches. Those who find it inconvenient or expensive to stay open on Sundays are trying to use a dead law to flog others who find staying open profitable. That's the long and short of it, and most people know it.

Sunday closing hasn't yet become quite as impossible to enforce as prohibition was, and it hasn't produced the widespread defiance of law that resulted in almost universal patronage of bootleggers and speakeasies in the '20s. But it is already producing a climate in which law is comic and the enforcers are laughed at. This can be deadly for public officials.

As one of Shakespeare's clowns, supposedly a stupid fellow, once said so wisely: "The law is an ass."

They have broken the law.

Judge Rules Purchasers Also Guilty

Every one of the stores which have been cited for violation of the law make the law-makers in Ohio look silly.

Blue Laws Splinter Churchmen Here; Some Say No, Others Yes, Maybe

Windsor French

There is something absolutely insane to me about a law that prohibits a man from buying milk for his children on 32 beer.

Or that allows him to lunch or dine in a restaurant while the next-door drugstore must close its counters.

Nor can I understand how any clear-thinking municipality would dream of enforcing such throwbacks to the Salem witch-burning days.

It's too bad, really, that such a municipality couldn't be a little more picturesque. More in the mood of the old Williamsburg, Va., say.

Then with a bit of effort the place could become a tourist trap with everyone going about in hoop skirts, powdered wigs and so on. They might even create a nice velvet Common.

Taft For Congressman-At-Large

Never in our memory has the choice between two candidates for public office been so clear-cut as the race for Ohio's new congressman-at-large.
We rank Robert Taft Jr., the Republican nominee, so far above his Democratic opponent, Richard D. Kennedy, that anything but a resounding victory for the son of the late senator would be a reflection on the judgment of Ohio voters.
Four terms as a state representative from Cincinnati and one a Ohio House majority floor leader give Mr. Taft an imposing advantage in legislative experience.

Robert Taft Jr.

For The State Offices

Five state offices below the rank of governor will be filled at the Nov. 6 election. All are important in their own right, and the man elected to serve in each has an important role to play in Ohio's state government.

Here are The Review's recommendations:

Lieutenant Governor

Neither of the nominees was our choice in the primary elections last May, and we believe the best candidates for this office are not on the ballot. One of them must be elected, however, to preside over the Ohio Senate and to fill the constitutional role of successor to the governor should a vacancy occur.

Since we have endorsed Republican James A. Rhodes for governor, we believe the lieutenant governor should be the Republican nominee—John W. Brown. The Medina resident previously served two terms as lieutenant governor and one term in the Ohio House. He now is completing a two-year term as state senator.

The Democratic nominee is John J. Gallagher of Cleveland, a former two-term state representative and four times unsuccessful in bids for state treasurer and lieutenant governor.

Attorney General

We think highly of both nominees. Republican William B. Saxbe served four terms in the Ohio House and was elected speaker, served a term as attorney general and was nominated for U.S. senator to succeed the late Robert A. Taft. Democrat Robert E. Sweeney, son of the late popular Cuyahoga County congressman, is seeking his first state office.

Our endorsement goes to Mr. Saxbe on the basis of his previous service and his greater experience in state government.

Paul W. Brown For Appeals Court

A judgeship on the 7th District Court of Appeals is among the offices which will receive attention of Columbiana County voters when they go to the polls in next Tuesday's general election.

The district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Ashtabula, Lake, Geauga, Trumbull, Portage, Mahoning, Carroll, Harrison, Belmont, Monroe and Noble counties.

The opposing candidates, both residents of Youngstown, are Paul W. Brown, the incumbent, and John J. Lynch.

Each can point to years of experience in the legal profession and each has demonstrated ability in various other capacities.

Straying Missiles

There will be, eventually, a runaway missile that a range officer won't be able to blow up when he presses the destruction button. It could have happened last Wednesday night when a Minuteman missile was launched at Cape Canaveral, veered off its intended course and headed toward Florida.

The range officer kept his head and did not destroy the missile until it had gained sufficient altitude. When it was destroyed after seconds that seemed like hours, the missile's fragments fell over a wide area, starting many brush fires. The explosion broke windows miles away. It was a chilling preview of what can happen in the missile era.

In the airplane era, now ending, ships could fall on dwellings and kill their occupants. Bombs dropped on friend as well as foe, just as missiles will overshoot, under-shoot, or go wide of the mark and destroy the wrong targets.

In the artillery era, big guns were not perfect. The shells they fired fell short. Arrows and spears went astray. The first men, throwing rocks, were not always accurate.

The point should be clear: Automated warfare will be no more fool-proof than the old-fashioned kind. Missiles will go astray too. Ours, theirs and everybody's.

The world's largest ocean liner is the new 66,000-ton "France." It is 1,035 feet long, four feet longer than the Cunard liner, "Queen Elizabeth."

Mr. Kennedy never has held public office. In the late '50s, he made unsuccessful bids to become mayor of Cleveland and state senator from Cuyahoga County. His victory in the May primaries is attributed largely to his surname, which was rocketed into national prominence in the presidential election of 1960.

He was one in a field of 11 Democrats and received only 21 per cent of the total vote. In his home area of Cuyahoga County, which presumably should know him best, he got only 16 per cent of the vote and ran a poor third.

Some indication of the fact that awaits Mr. Kennedy in the Nov. 6 election is the coolness his own party has shown for him. In fact, shortly after his nomination there was talk that Democrats would try to get him out of the race. And at the state Democratic convention he was denied party support or mention.

In sharp contrast, Bob Taft has inherited the family legacy of public service, and in his own right is a capable, experienced, conscientious, mature legislator well able to walk in the footsteps of his late and great father.

He deserves your support and your vote!

State Auditor

The most qualified, by far, in this race is Roger W. Tracy of Columbus. He served four two-year terms as state treasurer and has adequate experience in the complicated state financial field.

His opponent is Democrat John W. Donahey of Alliance, who served a term as lieutenant governor.

Secretary Of State

In this race a Canton man is contending for state office for the first time in more than a quarter century. He is Democrat Charles L. Babcock, former two-term mayor.

But he is facing one of the most formidable opponents on the Nov. 6 ballot in Ted W. Brown. Mr. Brown has held this office for 12 years and has achieved a reputation as one of the nation's outstanding election officials.

He is so popular in Ohio that he was the only Republican to survive the Democratic landslide in 1958, when he last ran. We urge the re-election of Mr. Brown on his record of service to the state.

State Treasurer

This race features sons of men well known in state government. The Republican candidate is John D. Herbert, son of Thomas J. Herbert, former governor, attorney general and Supreme Court judge. The Democratic candidate is Thomas E. Ferguson, son of Joseph T. Ferguson, present treasurer and former auditor of state.

Both are personable, intelligent young men who do credit to the state ticket. Mr. Herbert is a former assistant attorney general, and Mr. Ferguson has served as assistant treasurer in his father's administration.

Our preference is Mr. Herbert.

Since being appointed to the Appeals Court to fill a vacancy caused by death, Judge Brown has performed his duties in a manner which has won him high regard from his associate judges. He is the judicial-type mind so necessary for the position.

Experience is a valuable asset when an Appeals Court post is being considered. Judge Brown has the experience and there is no logical reason why there should be a change in the judgeship at this time.

On the strength of his outstanding record, The Review recommends that Judge Brown be returned to the appeals bench.

Don't Be No. 27!

The figures are there. If you don't get the message, you could be No. 27 in this year's fatality box.

Amazing What It's Done For Him

U.S. Communists Continue Activity

By Victor Riesel

Strategists of the Communist party, U.S.A., are attempting to block the blockade of the island Soviet state this nation of ours considers an enemy land.
Yes, there is an American Communist party, despite demurrers and considerable chortling in some circles over the thought that such a Soviet agency exists.

Victor Riesel

During some 10,000 miles of travel in recent weeks, and through the investment of considerable leg work and the collection of the most solid documentary evidence, I can vouch that there is a virile Communist movement in this country.

It is up to its ears in meetings. It distributes films in defense of the enemy. It fills large hotel ballrooms, famed landmark meeting halls.

It runs song festivals, bazaars, Marxist schools, fairs, bargain basements, concerts, open air theaters on big city streets, mass picnics, and even imports speakers from Europe at considerable expense.

IN POSITIVE violation of a new law, it is expanding its membership, now at 10,000.

This figure includes FBI infiltrators, of course. But not 1,500 such agents. Not half that many. This means the Communist party, U.S.A., operating on what must be a million-dollar budget, still has a membership of well over 9,000.

They are hard-core, disciplined members. They are part of a totalitarian movement which is startling many labor leaders and many of the security officers of the 3,000 classified defense plants in this land.

If this were a totalitarian network of fascism of other hues there would be horrified outcries. Why not over the Communist party?

Its actual base of operations, for the moment, is somewhere on the West Coast. It is from that cell that party members were alerted by special courier, by letters dispatched to what we call "drops" (innocent addresses), and by special bulletin, to block the blockade.

Cadres of the party's 21 regions were handed a five-point pro-Cuban program. It is a fact of life that these 9,000 members controlling several hundred organizations — including 40 new ones — can stir considerable noise. At least one of these units has picketed the White House. All of them are again "on the march."

THEY HAVE BEGUN, in the past few days, "implementing" the program to:

- 1. Urge that all military bases in the United States be dismantled.
- 2. Denounce the President for not telling the "truth" about Cuba — as a peaceful land.
- 3. Charge the President with yielding to the ultra right and big business.
- 4. Deluge the President and Congress with telegrams and letters denouncing our blockade action on the high seas.
- 5. Launch on the streets of the big cities, in the plants, in the colleges and in all infiltrated groups, whether Communist controlled or merely vulnerable to soft talk, a vigorous campaign to preserve peace.

Of course, I do not insinuate here that all peace groups are infiltrated. Many are anti-Communist. I merely report to you that there is documentary evidence of the Communist party's five-point directive.

It is the order of the American Communist presidium which is in direct and regular contact with special sections of the Soviet and Peiping governments — the latter having only recently dispatched its warm support from Communist China to the Communist party, U.S.A.

Yet, despite this Communist support of enemy lands, the Communist party operates freely throughout the land. The government is not interfering with its political rights.

THE PARTY has full freedom and so much due process that it will doubtless finally be judged by some future Supreme Court whose members are now just about entering law school.

The party, for example, owes the Treasury Department more than $328,000 in back taxes. But still it operates.

The party, though declared subversive by the Supreme Court itself, uses the mails to dispatch letters from its Lecture and Information Bureau to college editors and student councils. Successful solicitation, too, it should be reported.

It is directed by Arnold Johnson, whom Attorney General Robert Kennedy has put before the Subversive Activities Control Board.

The party people use radio and television despite the Supreme Court decision. Yet the party cries oppression, though the FCC has not interfered with it one whit.

THE PARTY continues to proselytize. This is illegal under a law President Kennedy signed on June 19. This amended a previous anti-Communist law by saying that "... the recruiting of new members, the forming of new units, and the regrouping or expansion of existing clubs, classes and other units..." is illegal.

On Dec. 11, the party goes to trial on charges of refusing to register as a foreign agent. It will get its years in court with full rights of course.

They denounce and agitate, organize and propagate politically, travel, demote, and promote against what I believe to be the best interests of humanity.

What are they complaining about? They would not be better off if they were in the Moscow oblast or perhaps Peiping.

A Glaring Deficiency

By David Lawrence

Soviet People Do Not Get The Truth

Is everything being done that can be done to prevent a third world war. As of today, a negative answer must be given. For there is a glaring deficiency — a failure of the voice of truth to reach the 200 million people of the Soviet Union who alone can determine whether their autocratic government shall stay in power.

David Lawrence

Sabers can be rattled readily by both sides. American warships can be ordered to blockade Soviet shipments of arms to Cuba. Diplomatic notes with cryptic or subtle phrases of deception can be issued from Moscow. But the Soviet people have not been getting and are not now getting the truth.

It is not a lack of means. The United States government is spending billions to try to reach the moon, but very little is being spent to win the help of the Soviet people in restraining the government in Moscow from plunging the world into a nuclear war.

The United States, to be sure, is equipped with the latest mechanical devices which can broadcast messages of great length into all the countries of the world in various languages.

Then what's lacking? It is a policy of positiveness and frankness that would, day after day, tell the peoples of the Communist-bloc countries how they can liberate themselves from the yoke of one-man rule and one-party government which today constitutes the biggest menace to world peace.

But, it will be asked, doesn't the United States government issue "propaganda" through the Voice of America and other agencies of international publicity?

THE ANSWER is that the messages sent out daily are so restrained in tone as to give the impression of a fear to speak out forthrightly and explicitly to the people of the Soviet Union.

The broadcasts are confined largely to reading over the air condensations of news dispatches and extracts from speeches and official statements. The official pronouncements, moreover, are couched in polite phrases and make no direct appeal.

The White House and State Department under this and preceding administrations have ordered a policy of forbearance. Occasionally, there is emphasis and bluntness. Every now and then there is a presidential statement broadcast which contains resolute words but there's no exhortation — no appeal to the Soviet people themselves.

The messages do not convey to the people behind the Iron Curtain the basic fact that peace cannot be assured in the world either for them or for any other nation until the Communist tyranny and dictatorship is removed and peoples are free to conduct their own elections and choose their own rulers — as in a republic.

The Soviet government ironically calls its constituent provinces "republics" and misuses the word "democracy" again and again, but the rest of the world makes relatively little effort to overcome the effects of such deceptive tactics. Free governments do not speak out on it, except in a most abstract way.

THE SOVIET PEOPLE have been told repeatedly by a controlled press, radio and TV that the United States and its Western allies are indeed aggressors.

The charge has been reiterated constantly that America plans the destruction of the people of the Soviet Union by nuclear bombs direct from missile bases in Europe. Even inside this country there are many uninformed persons who don't see the difference between Western bases erected in Turkey for defensive and deterrent purposes and missile bases built by Khrushchev in Cuba for what he chooses to call "defensive" purposes.

Many citizens in this country do not know why the Western missile bases were originally set up in Turkey, nor do they know of the Soviet threats of missile attack that preceded this countermove by the West.

Sure, it was printed in the newspapers at the time it happened in 1958 and was announced to the world. It wasn't done secretly. But there's been little or no mention of it since then nor any overall broadcast to the Soviet people repeated day in and day out to characterize the offensive nature of the Kremlin's tactics throughout Europe, Asia, and Latin America, as well as Africa.

This has made defensive measures necessary and has built up the armament costs of every one of the free nations.

NO GOVERNMENT in the West has called on the Soviet peoples directly to liberate themselves from the yoke of the dictatorship government in Moscow. No promises of financial and economic aid have been made to these very people who have been deprived of the benefits of a decent standard of living. Repeated broadcasts of this kind would be heard by a few people at first, and then would spread later by word of mouth—which is still the most effective means of mass communication known to the world today.

Is a revolution inside the Soviet Union possible? This question is often asked. Three times in the last 50 years people throughout the world were convinced that a revolution to overthrow any strong dictatorship in Europe was not even remotely possible.

Few persons, for instance, who read of the tight hold on the Russian people by the czarist regime ever believed it could be or would be overthrown as it was in 1917.

Few people ever believed that the Kaiser or Hitler could be deposed or that disintegration of their authority and power could come from within. But when once the truth reaches the Soviet people, they too will take concerted action, and the personnel of the Soviet army, navy and air force will desert the dictatorship en masse as was done in the three instances mentioned above.

The concerted will of the people sometimes is slow to manifest itself, but, when it does, everybody joins the revolution for freedom. In this case, it will spread throughout the Communist-bloc countries as well.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I'm writing this letter to express my feelings to some of the inconsiderate people of East Liverpool Township. I am Constable Len Watters daughter and I take his calls during the day.

I would like to explain to these people just how I feel about some of them. Of course, there are some who are quite considerate.

I would like to tell you what some of the inconsiderate are like.

At about 9 p. m. I answered the phone. A man in a loud, angry voice asked: Is the constable in? I said he was out on a call and asked if the call was important. He replied in a few words which I won't repeat that it was none of my business, and declared that he wanted the constable now.

I only want to ask you what you would do if you were in my place. I receive many of these calls during the day.

The constable has no radio in his car and so, you see, I have no way of calling him.

He has no help, either, so even if he was lying somewhere injured he would have no way of receiving help until someone found him. They tell him there's not enough money for one radio.

If you people cannot wait for his call-back, please tell me if you need help right away. I can always call the state police. I take my time to answer your calls even if "it's none of my business".

You inconsiderate people can ask some of the considerate who will tell you that I have helped many of them and they didn't have to swear and scream at me.

You see after all my family's only human too.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

After reading the letter that Mr. Edward Broderick issued to the East Liverpool Review on Oct. 25, I would like to state that as a resident of the Fourth Ward of the city of Wellsville that I am proud to have Mr. William Stroble as a representative.

He certainly has worked very hard for everything concerning the city. And I am sure that many of his constituents will agree.

If Mr. Broderick is so mature in his judgment and so civic-minded, he should consider the thought of running for Second Ward Councilman and see if he is willing to put forth the time and effort that Mr. William Stroble has for the people he represents in the Fourth Ward!

Profit Anemia Grips Nation's Steel Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit anemia has gripped the nation's steel industry.

A report was on tap later today detailing its effects on the No. 1 steelmaking firm, U. S. Steel Corp. Directors were scheduled to disclose July - September profits and their decision whether to retain the 75 cents a quarter dividend paid since the start of 1957.

Wall Street sources, guessing that earnings might fall short of the established payout rate by as much as one-half, were about evenly divided on the probability of a dividend cut.

U. S. Steel failed to earn its dividend in the second quarter, but the dividend payment has not been cut since the early 1930s.

Depressing profit figures, already reported by most major firms, underlined the economic ills of steel that industry leaders say was behind last spring's historic clash over prices.

The financial picture they spell out is a gloomy one for stockholders. For example, Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranking producer, slashed its dividend nearly 40 per cent last weeks.

It was the fourth steel company to cut dividends.

In 1961, the steel industry cleared just over a nickel on each dollar of sales, its poorest profit showing since 1952. This year promises to be worse.

Speed, Accuracy Urged By Brown In Vote Counting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With election day one week away, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today called on county boards of election for continued diligence in making certain that the votes cast Nov. 6 are correctly and speedily tabulated.

"There is a possibility of close contests," Brown warned, pointing out that in cases of substantial errors, suspicions are aroused and "cries of 'fraud,' warranted or not, occur."

As Ohio's top election official, Brown said in his letter to the boards:

"We are pleased with the increased tempo in Ohio in instructing polling place officials. This should accrue to a more efficient and accurate count."

"The men and women who serve in our more than 14,000 polling places perform a conscientious public service, but continued diligence in these matters must be exercised right down to the wire."

2 Thugs Nabbed After They Stole Check Of Man, 78

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $1,000 cashier's check stolen by two thugs from a 78-year-old East Side man was recovered minutes later through the teamwork of a bank guard and a traffic patrolman.

A 23-year-old East Side man was arrested Monday following the strong-arm theft at East 101st Street and Superior Avenue. His partner escaped.

Wilson Betts, 49, a guard at the Cleveland Trust Co. branch at East 105th Street and Superior Avenue, said Horace Brown came in the bank Monday afternoon and told a teller he wanted to withdraw $1,000.

Betts, a friend of Brown, and the teller convinced the elderly man that he should take a cashier's check instead of cash as he had intended.

The bank guard said he watched Brown as he departed and saw two men follow him and then grab him and take the check. Betts hailed patrolman Lemon Long, a traffic officer, and together they gave chase in Long's car.

After 15 minutes of cruising they spotted the two thugs. Long grabbed the man with the check and Betts ran after the second man but lost him after firing two warning shots in the air.

Think 10 years ahead...

This is the trend of home heating costs in this area. Project the figures for yourself. You'll understand why we believe that in a few years, if your home is not heated electrically, you'll certainly wish it was.

In the past 10 years alone, 9,000 Ohio Power customers have turned to flameless electric heating. And five times that number now wish they had it.*

The reasons are clear: unmatched cleanliness and safety; individual room controls; more comfortable, more even heat. Electricity provides the quality heat that every fine home deserves.

Remember—there is a special low electric rate now available for home heating.

ocrat, lost in the May primary to Dan Grossi of Weirton, a veteran steelworker.

The Republican candidate is Mrs. Ora McKenzie of New Cumberland, widow of the former New Cumberland solicitor, Thomas McKenzie. She was unopposed in May.

There will also be a new county commissioner from Clay District next year — either Robert E. (Chick) Roach, Democrat, or W. Blair Patterson, Republican.

Roach, 54, has been a teacher at New Cumberland High School since 1929, and has served three terms in the House of Delegates.

Patterson, 47, is a former Council member in New Cumberland and is employed at Weirton Steel Co.

The incumbent commissioner, Lyle F. Virden of Pughtown, was defeated by Roach for the Democratic nomination in May. Patterson whipped James Arehart on the GOP ticket.

Candidates for member of House of Delegates from the county are Miss Callie Tsapis, Democrat, who is seeking a third straight two-year term, and James E. Porter of Weirton.

Miss Tsapis, a Weirton-Chester attorney, was assistant prosecutor of the county in 1952-54.

Making his initial bid in politics, Porter is a foreman in the car repair shop of Weirton Steel. Both Atty. Tsapis and Porter were unopposed in the primary.

Hancock voters will also help elect a state senator from the 1st Senatorial District. The candidates are Charles L. Ihlenfeld of Wheeling, Democrat, and Chester R. Hubbard of Wheeling, Republican.

There are three other amendments on the ballot. One is the "Sheriff's Succession Amendment" that would allow county sheriffs to serve two consecutive four-year terms, instead of only one as at present. Only three other states besides West Virginia forbid consecutive terms.

The other amendments are the "Fair Representation Amendment" and the "Legislative Amendment."

A total of 21,470 county residents are eligible to vote—13,811 Democrats, 7,607 Republicans and 52 independents.

The mishap involved a four-door auto operated by Harold A. Blackhurst, 47, of 423 Grant St., and a truck of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Webster Way driven by Jack Lee Bryan, 27, of Chester R. D. 1, officers said.

The two vehicles were halted side by side on W. 6th St. for a traffic signal and as they drove away the truck pulled to the right and hit the side of the auto, police said.

Bryan told officers he did not see the auto. There was damage to the left front fender and grill of the car and the right door was jammed, police said. The crash dented the right front fender of the truck, damaged a battery carrier and scratched the entire right side, officers reported.

FOP At Wellsville Reiterates Stand Against Hall Project

Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 11 today reiterated its stand of opposing a proposal calling for construction of a combination Post Office - City Hall building to be decided at next Tuesday's election.

Declaring that the lodge's stand on the controversial proposal "is not clearly understood," the FOP asserted that "We want the public to know that our lodge is against the proposed City Hall-Post Office combination building."

An officer added, "The FOP membership is comprised of all members of the Wellsville Police Department, and other men engaged in police work in our area," in rebuttal to a statement in which Chief John Hephner denied the police department has taken an official stand in the controversy.

Hephner said earlier that the department has not and will not take part in the dispute, as an official unit, and that any member of the department who expresses views on the issue is expressing personal views and not those of the department.

But the FOP today vigorously declared that it went on record as opposing the combination building Sept. 24 without a dissenting vote. Chief Hephner is treasurer of Lodge 11.

The FOP said it opposes the combination building because the police department, welfare department and cell blocks are to be located on the second floor, under the original plans.

"Since that time, this proposal and the wording of it have been misconstrued by the opponents of the proposed combination building, thus our stand on this very important issue is not clear to the public," the FOP said.

"The FOP membership is comprised of all members of the Wellsville Police Department and other men engaged in police work in our area," it added.

"We want the public to know that our lodge is against the proposed City Hall-Post Office combination building."

Capt. Pete Trainer is president of the FOP and Patrolman Robert E. Wellington is secretary.

Keep In Trim

By 'DA JEAN KAIN

Calories Don't Count-They Multiply

Americans in general and overweighters in particular want to find a way to enjoy good food without fear of "creeping poundage."

We have to keep up our strength, but let's face it, excess food doesn't make extra strength. A n y excess goes into f a t storage. Calories don't count — They multiply.

There is no way to change nature's book-keeping on the calorie score. Food is burned for fuel on the body's demand for energy—not in accordance with the amount of food eaten.

One dieter reasoned that if she ate fast perhaps she wouldn't get quite so much "good" out of her food and the calories wouldn't count. That ruse doesn't work, for in fast eating nature's satiety signal is ignored.

WORSE, in fast eating you eat for quantity, instead of getting satisfaction from the actual taste of the food.

A dieter who succeeded in losing an impressive number of pounds, kept them off by continuing to savor her meals. She reported: "While dieting I rediscovered the pleasure of savoring my food. A meal isn't just a habit anymore, nor do I ever eat merely to fill up."

"A meal is an occasion of importance and delight. I really enjoy food now more than I ever have in my adult life."

Ida Jean Kain

A perplexed homemaker who was struggling to reduce her own weight and her husband's weight wrote: "What's the use in trying to make meals appetizing and attractive when we can't eat much anyway!" This kind of reasoning is defeating.

The unexpected ingredient in any diet pattern should be — pleasure! The less a meal seems like diet fare the better. If that homemaker would decide to plan and prepare the best possible meals within their calorie allowances, weight control would be nothing like the ordeal it is for them now.

Try an experiment: Decide in advance to enjoy your dinner but not to overeat. Savor every forkful of food. Really taste each delicious bite.

The more enjoyment you get out of what you eat, the more satisfied you will be on slimming fare.

IT IS FOOLISH to think we must either stick to dull fare or stay fat. The plain truth is that faddy diets are a snare and a delusion and are quite likely at the root of much of our excess avoidupois. Americans aren't happy on diets.

So what's the answer? We need to educate our appetites so as to control weight, not by dieting, but by not overeating. The surprise ingredient in such a weight control pattern will be — pleasure.

Send a stamped, self-addressed long envelope for "Take Your Choice Diet. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Respect Property

During this time of year, many dwelling houses are going up in residential areas. As soon as the basement is excavated or some sand and lumber are delivered, children from 5 to 12 in the neighborhood are attracted to explore and play with the materials or carry some of these away. From Dr. Garry Meyers the time the framework goes up till doors which lock are installed, the house is a play-place for many children. These children wait till the workmen have gone home. Then they climb, play games of chase and tamper with the tools, often carrying off some of them or anything else they can carry. They sometimes do considerable damage at what they think is fun. Sometimes one or more children get hurt.

THE PARENTS OF these children usually know they play in and about this house, even may know of things they bring home from it. How many of these parents care that their children are trespassing and practicing bad citizenship? How many are concerned about the owners of the property? Suppose the house going up belonged to one of these parents?

Suppose a building is under construction near your home. If you want to teach your children the alphabet of due regard for the rights and possessions of others, please consider doing as follows.

Make clear to your children that the house under construction and all the materials in and around it don't belong to them, that it is private property. Command them not to touch or handle any materials in or about this construction or to enter the building unless with one of their parents.

YOU WOULD NOT, of course, take your children there without first having secured permission from the owner or owners to do so. Also you would impress on the children, as you went with them, that you had got the permission. If your child says, "All the other kids go there for fun," merely reply that yours shall not.

This problem of teaching your children not to trespass may remain the year around in relation to gardens, lawns, shrubs and the like.

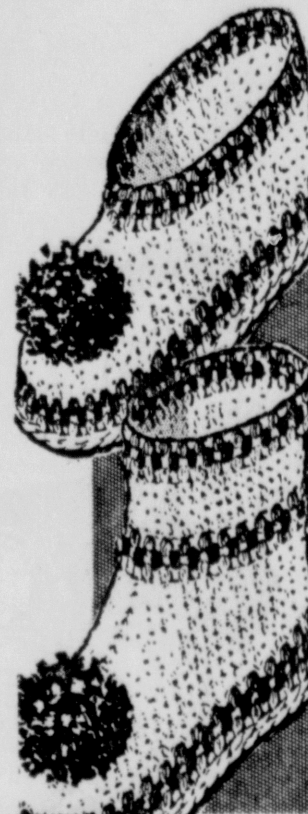

Last month a mother wrote from a residential area of the midwest where there were heavy snows: "The children in this area who live in homes with good-sized yards and no parks close by, made such a shambles of my husband's shoveling job you would not know he shoveled, because they climbed all over the snow piles and knocked most of the snow back on the walk."

SOON THEY WILL be acting the same way about my husband's freshly seeded lawn. But none of the children's parents lift a finger."

While we feel sorry for the property owners so imposed upon, our greater concern should be for the harmed character of the trespassing children.

My bulletins, "Teaching Child Care of Property" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Time For Thought

Sen. Young Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said developments in the Cuban crisis make this "a time to be thoughtful, not to gloat."

Speaking to Washington newsmen Monday before leaving for Ohio, Young said "both sides were glad to back down from the danger they were in." He said both President Kennedy, whose policy he praised, and Premier Khrushchev "should have a sombre feeling as they back away from this real danger."

The senator discounted reports of a possible Soviet submarine base in Cuba. He said he saw the latest pictures taken by U.S. reconnaissance planes and talked with defense officials. He said he was assured there was no truth to the reports.

Judge Orders 120

Cabbies Back On Job

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Summit County Common Pleas Court Judge Frank H. Harvey has ordered 120 of 190 striking taxi drivers back to work.

The court order Monday named Local 345, Teamsters Union, which represents drivers for the City Yellow Cab Co., to have its drivers return to work.

The other 70 drivers, who do not belong to a union, are employed by the G.I. Cab Co. They walked off their jobs Sunday in an alleged attempt to gain union recognition.

The Yellow Cab drivers followed suit, refusing to cross the G.I. picket lines. Both companies are owned jointly and are the only taxicab concerns in the city.

Gas Rate

Council, rather than filing an application with the PUCO. Betsch, who acted as the principal spokesman, told Council the papers have been prepared for a state rate case, but the company has no intention of filing them immediately.

On at least two previous occasions, Council rejected the idea of a locally - granted boost and suggested the utility take its case to the PUCO. The councilmen reiterated last night they do not consider themselves rate experts and feel they are not qualified to pass on the merits of the company's application.

Betsch told Council the company's latest offer, filed in August by Cox and Sneddon, calls for an overall increase of 8.7 per cent.

If the company goes before the PUCO, it will cost both the utility and the city additional funds to hire rate experts and counsel, he said.

Betsch said Ohio Valley would like to be in a position to negotiate rates separately with its industrial consumers, rather than having the charges fixed by the PUCO. If rates are adjusted by local action, the firm could negotiate separately with industries, he said.

Betsch said the utility is anxious to offer "the lowest possible rate" to industry "to encourage the plants to remain in the Ohio Valley and possibly to expand."

For each 100 jobs created, another 74 are required in related industry or businesses, he said. He said half the company's volume of business in the valley is with industrial concerns.

As the meeting ended, the councilmen indicated they may discuss the company's proposal again with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper at the regular meeting next Monday night.

The Rev. George Parkinson of the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Canton was guest speaker, discussing "Be Alive All Your Life."

Atty. Bettis, publicity chairman, spoke on the clinic fund drive with the goal set at $20,000. If this is reached, the state will give another $40,000 and the group will then set up a psychiatric clinic for Columbiana County residents. Sunday will be mental health Sunday.

Judge Louis Tobin is general chairman, Leland S. Firestone of Lisbon, treasurer; Kendal, captain of cities and villages, and Pozenel, captain of rural areas.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

What Do You Expect Buttercups?

"Whine, whine, whine, that's all you people ever do," Bill Hartfelt said as he separated the chicken wire from the chablis bottle. "What do you expect to see out there on the television waste-land? Buttercups?"

"Here," he said, offering me a glass, "take a swallow of that. Good, huh? Oh, come on, Gill, you needn't make a face. Enjoy life, take it for what it is. This stuff costs only 95 cents."

"It's like television. When you're watching a 95-cent program, wear your 95-cent brain. Do you know that 'Lassie' is a darned good show if you're in a 'Lassie' mood. You don't come to it expecting 'Death of a Salesman.'"

"And 'Car 54, Where Are You?' is darned funny if you're not insisting on W. C. Fields. You people work in 'should-be's' rather than 'is's.'"

"Is's?" I said.

"EXACTLY. One particular 'is' of the television industry is that it's commercial and there's nothing you can do about it."

"Hartfelt's First Fact of Cultural Life is: where there's a sponsor, there's mediocrity. The second fact concerns audience. You can get a certain number of people to come to a theater where an Edward Albee play is running, but you can't ask a whole country to go wild over a drama that's as pleasant and restful as the Chinese torture trick."

"What the whole country wants is Lucille Ball, and don't forget it."

"You know what I'd do if I were writing a television column? I'd come out four-square for 'Hawaiian Eye' and 'McHale's Navy' (my kids laughed themselves silly over 'McHale's Navy' the other night), and I'd write blistering editorials against documentaries on water pollution, against those 'important news bulletins' that interrupt 'The Virginian,' against educational television in its entirety, and against 'Circle Theater.' Face it, feller, they're bores."

"YOU WANT excellence, do you? Well, how can you expect it when you've got 1,000 creative people in the business working 100 hours a week (they're overemployed) and 10,000 more who are not working at all (they're unemployed)?"

"Life in television is either a monsoon or it's a drought. Do you realize there are only three guest-actors on TV—Ed Begley, Kim Hunter and Eli Wallach? Nobody else has a job."

"And the writers! A handful of writers are doing all the stuff we see. I think Marion Hargrove writes everything that comes on after 7 o'clock. How can you get the best work possible out of the overemployed?"

"The truth is, there's never been a renaissance in radio or television. I had occasion the other day to look up an old Orson Welles thing—a 'Mercury Theater on the Air' production that happened in September of '38."

"Do you know what was on that night, outside of Welles? 'The Singing Lady,' 'Lum and Abner,' 'Amos 'n' Andy,' 'The Lone Ranger,' 'Believe It or Not,' 'Pick and Pat,' Margaret Speaks with the Alfred Wallenstein Orchestra, phony, Eddie Duchin and Wayne King."

"IN THE AFTERNOON, there were 33 soap operas, from 'Life Can Be Beautiful' to 'Pretty Kitty Kelly.'"

"Do you remember 'Stella Dallas,' 'Backstage Wife' or 'Lorenzo Jones'? Do 'Just Plain Bill,' 'Heart of Julia Blake' or 'Grimm's Daughter' ring a bell? "How would you like a steady diet of 'John's Other Wife,' 'Just Neighbors,' 'Affairs of Anthony' and 'Big Sister'?"

"I'm going to type out a list of those 33 soapers, Gill, and stick it under your nose. Whenever you're tempted to whine about 'McKeever' or 'Saints and Sinners,' I want you to read the list, and suffer. Now, how's the chablis?"

"It has a certain disarming bouquet that is doubtlessly a source of some interest to its adherents."

"That's the idea."

CD To Ready Field Hospital

Midland's 200-bed Civil Defense emergency hospital, now stored in three locations, will be moved Saturday to the basement of the Post Office building, David Schwerha, director, said.

The Civil Defense auxiliary police and volunteer firemen will help move parts of the $35,000 hospital at 9 a.m. from the Borough Building and Lincoln High School. One part already is stored at the Post Office.

The hospital is being moved since a single location now is considered best and the Post Office building is a better location.

When firemen were in charge of the hospital, it was stored in several places so that in the event of a fire all of it would not be destroyed. The state is obligated to check all crates and replace old medicines.

Plans for the transfer were made at a meeting of the Civil Defense unit Saturday night in the Borough Building. Eight of the auxiliary police helped with the Halloween parade that evening.

Schwerha said the second phase of the public shelter and marking program of the Civil Defense is expected to be put in effect soon if appropriations are allowed for the stocking of public shelters that have been chosen.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has been on the sucker list of fraudulent business operations, Robert E. Sweeney, Democratic candidate for attorney general, said here Monday night. Stressing a need for stringent laws to provide buyer protection, Sweeney said Ohio has been backward and lax in adopting legislation to protect the consumer.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We have an adorable, 11-year-old, freckle-faced girl. She is a charmer, Ann, but terribly stubborn.

It's useless to deny her anything because her grandparents will buy whatever she wants. When I send her to her room for punishment she has a grand time because she has a color TV, a $150 doll house, and a pink telephone her grandparents had installed because she complained that Mummy and Daddy talk on the phone too much.

Yesterday she refused to hang up her coat and hat—just dropped them on the floor. When I asked her to please hang her wraps in the closet she said, "I worked hard in school today and I don't feel like it."

I sent her to her room and she promptly phoned her grandmother and shouted, "HELP! I'm a prisoner!"

What can I do with this child?—B.R.

Dear B.R.: First solve the grandparent problem. Tell them if they send your overindulged daughter another gift which has not been approved by you in advance it will be returned.

When the child misbehaves, send her to her room—but first remove the color TV, the doll house, and yes—the telephone. Then let "the charmer" sit there till her freckles fall off.

Crowning Glory

Dear Ann: Can you find space in your column to say something about a subject that has been a sore spot with me for a long time?

I'm a high school teacher who loves my students. I am particularly concerned about some of my young girls. What on earth are they doing with their hair these days?

So many of the girls returned to school this fall with those hideous beehive and bouffant hairdos. They look ratty and out of place. And it's terribly unhealthy for the hair. These girls tell me they sleep in plastic hair sacks, wrap-around flannel clothes, tissue paper caps and what-not. They don't use a brush, or even a comb, from one week to the next. Their hair is frizzed, sprayed, tortured and twisted.

How much lovelier they would look, Ann, if they cut their hair and kept it brushed, shining and bright. A high school girl should look like a freshly scrubbed young student, not a burlesque queen.

If you pass this word it might make the point. Thank you.—

Dear Stamford: Your letter is a precise echo of my sentiments. I hope your message penetrates those lacquered mops and starts a trend back to wholesome, All-American hairdos.

Widow's Mite

Dear Ann: I'm a widow 49 years old. I live in a $30,000 home which is paid for. I have $25,000 on the bank and $30,000 invested in stocks. My living costs $400 a month. The cash is going fast yet I don't know where to cut down. If I sold my car I would have to depend on friends and I'd hate to do this.

I'd like to take a job but my friends tell me my age is against me. I worked in an accountant's office before I married and I'm sure if I brushed up I could be useful somewhere in business.

What should I do—sell this house and move into an apartment? Invest the money I now have in the bank? Keep trying to get a job, regardless of salary? Friends and relatives have been trying to advise me for two years and I still don't know what to do. Can you help me?—FORT LAUDERDALE.

Dear Fort Lauderdale: You don't need advice—you've had plenty. What you need is to decide what advice you're going to accept.

My sole suggestion is get a job. You'll feel much better knowing that some money is coming in. Even if you made a modest salary it would be better for your morale than sitting around watching your cash reserves melt away, or polling your friends about "what to do."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The women of the Methodist choir sang "There's A Shepherd." Organ and piano numbers were presented by Mrs. Finley and Mrs. L. H. Wagner.

Mrs. Wagner, spiritual life secretary of the WSCS, was in charge of the service. The welcome and benediction were given by Mrs. Stewart.

Following the devotional hour, refreshments were served in the social room, where fall flowers and Halloween decorations were used. Mrs. Paul Mackall and her assistants, Mrs. Walter Reed and Miss Flora Nash, were in charge of decorations and the hour.

Club 13 will meet Nov. 28 at the home of Mrs. Robert Boswer of Georgetown.

The club met recently at the home of Mrs. Virginia Rogers of Aliquippa Route 1. Game prizes were won by Mrs. Bowser, first.

Devilbiss Gives Niles A Hand Into First Place Spot

Alliance Falls From Top 10; Big Red Pushes To 5th Place

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Niles McKinley's defending champions, with a king-size assist from Toledo Devilbiss, took over the top spot today in the weekly Associated Press high school football poll.

Coach Dave Hardy's Devilbiss team knocked Alliance's 1958 scholastic kings out of the lead—and all the way out of the top ten—with a resounding 28-8 victory. It was the second loss for the Aviators, who dropped the opener to Lima Senior.

Devilbiss, the week's hero of the high school fields, has been beaten once in seven starts. It was a 36-20 decision to Toledo Central, in which Devilbiss led at one point by 20-6.

Niles ran its unbeaten streak to 35 with a 20-6 win over Farrell, Pa., although outweighed about 25 pounds per man and minus the services of red-hot halfback Robert (Bo) Rein.

A corps of 54 sports writers, voting in the weekly poll, rewarded Devilbiss by hoisting the Tigers from nowhere to eighth place. And Toledo Central, which last week jumped from eighth to fifth, made it all the way to second this time—55 poll points behind Tony Mason's pace-setting Dragons.

Warren Harding clung to third, but there were several other changes. Lorain Admiral King moved from sixth to fourth, trading spots with Sandusky, while Steubenville rose from eighth to fifth. Middletown stayed in the seventh spot and Cincinnati Roger Bacon 10th, but Springfield South fell out of the elite list as Circleville's 13-game winners took over ninth.

From here and there:
Irony of Alliance's loss to Devilbiss was the fact the Aviators scheduled the contest as a fill-in for their date with Canton McKinley—which isn't playing this year due to suspension by the State High School Athletic Association. Two playful voters, however, gave the suspended Bulldogs a total of four points in today's poll.

The Eastern Ohio teams haven't had too much luck against Western foes this season—and Friday Steubenville (5th) goes against Toledo Central Catholic (2nd).

Massillon's nine-time state champions and the Little Giants of Fremont Ross, who upset the Tigers in the opener, are now tied far down in the poll with nine points. Massillon lost its fourth last week to Warren Harding, 20-7, while Fremont was a 24-16 victim of fourth-ranked Lorain Admiral King.

Little Beavercreek made it seven straight after an opening loss by defeating Dayton Chaminade 22-21—first time in 23 years the latter has dropped four in a row. Four Dayton schools—Roth, Colonel White, Dunbar and Roosevelt—are in a 4-1 tie for the city title.

Mansfield Madison scored with one second to go to beat Wooster 22-14. Fredericktown has scored 162 points in the last three games. Bellville made it 21 in a row by beating Columbus Brookhaven 18-0. It's Brookhaven's first grid year, and there's no school—the students attend Linden McKinley.

Admiral King's 200-pound fullback, Joe Kozar, was the difference against Fremont Ross. He gained 176 yards in 27 carries and scored once. Ross coach Mal Mackey said, "He killed us." Admiral King faces sixth-rated Sandusky Nov. 11.

Mays To Enter Hospital, Cepeda Has Eye Checkup

By HUBERT J. ERB
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays is scheduled to check into a hospital today and Orlando Cepeda has an appointment with an eye doctor as the two right-handed slugger mainstays of the San Francisco Giants try to unravel the nature of physical ailments each claims plagued him during the 1962 season.

The two represent $135,000 worth of talent. Mays reportedly is the highest paid baseball player at $90,000 a year.

Willie, the 1950 "say hey" rookie who ever since has roamed center field for the Giants, said from midsummer on, "I'm tired. Awfully tired." He collapsed in the dugout in Cincinnati's Crosley Field on Sept. 12. He was hospitalized, missed four games but then sparked the club in its pennant playoff victory.

Mays is entering Mount Zion Hospital to start a complete series of physical tests. His doctor, Harold Rosenblum, said the results would be known Friday or Saturday.

Miami Trace's Bill Hall scored all 14 points in the win over Hillsboro, one touchdown coming on a 94-yard run. Teays Valley, in its first football year, wrecked Greenview 49-6. Middletown's Paul Walker, son of the famed basketball coach, tossed three touchdown passes in the 28-6 win over Hamilton Taft, giving him 20 for the campaign.

Greenfield had a minus-five yardage for the first three periods in losing to Circleville. Tommy Beier of Fremont St. Joseph has tallied 21 touchdowns this year—133 points—and the team has allowed only 22. Five Sandusky Bay Conference foes have been blanked by St. Joseph, which has an 8-0 mark.

Jimmy Foxx, son of the former major league batting star, threw three touchdown passes as Lakeview nipped Cleveland Shaw 18-16 for its seventh straight win.

Steubenville's Harry Wilson, 1961 All-Ohio, scored four touchdowns and ran 148 yards in 27 tries in the 34-8 win over Martins Ferry. For the year he has 21 touchdowns, 144 points and 1,232 yards rushing.

Dayton Colonel White's eight-game win streak was stopped by Dayton Dunbar, 26-20. Dayton Chaminade, loser of four straight football games, resumed cross-country running after 30 years and won the district meet last weekend.

Cepeda, 25, brawny Puerto Rican first baseman with a ready smile, says a doctor has told him he has a cataract on his right eye, a condition that produces a haze over the lens. He reiterated his earlier statement that the condition came to light when he took a driver's test.

Between them, Mays and Cepeda drove in 255 runs during the 1962 National League season and hit 84 home runs. Mays led the majors in homers with 49. He had 141 runs batted in. Last year Cepeda led the league in homers with 46 and RBI with 142.

Neither did well in the World Series, eventually lost by the Giants to the New York Yankees.

The Wildcats' prime objective is a Big Ten title—they haven't won in 26 years. Northwestern, however, must get by Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan State on successive Saturdays to reach the goal.

Two East Liverpool sophomores were injured in the Potter - Steubenville Central reserve game Monday. Coach Jack Bair's Potters came back in the fourth quarter and with time running out quarterback Bob Maltarich hit end Tom Baker for the 60-yard touchdown pass.

Halfback Denny Burke roared into the end zone for the conversion which gave the Potters a victory instead of a tie.

Ryan Is Starter For Browns Now

CLEVELAND (AP) — Quarterback Frank Ryan, a five-year veteran of the National Football League who has spent most of his time watching from the bench, will carry Cleveland's passing load now that the Browns have lost No. 1 signal-caller Jim Ninowski for the rest of the season.

"It gives me a good feeling to have the responsibility, although I'm sorry I had to get it through an injury to Jim," Ryan said.

Ninowski was hurt Sunday in the second period against Pittsburgh and Ryan came on to lead the Browns to a 41-14 triumph over the Steelers that left Cleveland with a 4-3 record and still shooting for the Eastern Conference title.

"I wasn't nervous when I went in there Sunday, but it took a little time to get adjusted. I made some mistakes, but they are things that can be ironed out. Just one workout should take care of a lot of them."

Ninowski was placed on the injured list Monday after X-rays confirmed that he had suffered a dislocated left shoulder and fractured collarbone.

Rookie passer John Furman, former Texas Western star, was obtained from the Minnesota Vikings Monday as an understudy to Ryan.

The left-handed Furman, tested by the Browns last summer and then let go, hasn't been on the Vikings' regular roster but was retained as an extra player. He will rejoin the Browns Wednesday.

He is to be with the Browns only for the remainder of the season. He already has signed a contract with the Vikings for 1963 and plans another tryout with them.

The Browns had counted heavily on Ninowski—obtained in the controversial trade that sent Milt Plum to the Detroit Lions—in their hopes for an NFL title. He led the team to five straight exhibition victories but was hampered by a knee injury in the early part of the regular season.

Ernie Davis, Syracuse halfback who won All-America honors and the Heisman Trophy last year, was another player on whom the Browns had placed their hopes, but he was sidelined by leukemia before the season started.

Hayes Praises Bucks' Center Joe Armstrong

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes has nothing but praise for Buckeye center Billy Joe Armstrong—the littlest lineman on Hayes' starting team.

"Billy Joe is the best all-around player on our squad," Hayes said at his weekly press luncheon Monday.

"He's the best I've had here in 12 years. He has been tops for four years in grades, attitude, behavior and playing ability. He's just as good on defense as on offense, and if any player is entitled to national recognition, Billy Joe is the one."

The 189-pound, 5-foot-11 senior from Huron has not missed many plays in three years. As a sophomore he played 249 minutes; as a junior he logged 232 minutes and this year he hasn't missed an offensive play and also has helped considerably on defense.

He was the 175-pound state high school wrestling champion and a fullback at Huron.

End Jim Gibbons has either led or shared the Detroit Lions pass catching leadership for the last three years.

Junior Editors Quiz on STARS

QUESTION: How can I find Polaris, the North Star?

ANSWER: We all need to know something these days about stars and constellations. The way to start is to locate Polaris. This star is almost exactly on a line with the axis of the earth, which is an imaginary line running through the poles, around which the earth spins. Think of the North Pole as right under the North Star. Polaris is the one star which remains where it is as the hours pass; all the others seem to be turning around it (of course the stars don't really turn, it is the earth's rotation which gives this effect.) To find Polaris, face in the general direction of north. Look for a large group of stars shaped like a dipper (see picture.) The two stars in the front of the Dipper's pot make a line. Follow this line out and the next bright star will be Polaris. Since the stars seem to move around Polaris, the Dipper will be in different positions, at different hours and at different seasons, but the "Pointers" will still be aimed at the North Star.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you ever get lost at night, find the Dipper, then Polaris. Think carefully what direction you should take to get home, whether east, south or so on. You can find this direction taking Polaris as north. As you go, check with Polaris every little while.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 30, the 303rd day of 1962. There are 62 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1941, Congress repealed the Neutrality Act, putting the nation in virtually a war basis. The action stemmed from the sinking by a Nazi submarine of the U.S. destroyer Reuben Jones off Iceland with the loss of 100 men. It was the first Nazi destruction of an armed U.S. vessel.

On this date: In 1768, the first Methodist chapel in the New World was dedicated in New York by Philip Em-

In 1893, the Columbian Exposition opened in Chicago.

In 1922, Benito Mussolini and his followers reached Rome to complete their bloodless capture of the Italian capital.

In 1943, Allied bombers attacked the German-occupied Italian city of Genoa.

Today's birthdays: Milwaukee Braves infielder Joe Adcock is 35. Actress Ruth Gordon is 66.

Thought for today: We do not live to extenuate the miseries of the past nor to accept as incurable those of the present--Fairfield Osborn.

Ike Credits GOP With Major Role In Stand By U.S.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says Republicans had a major role in giving the United States the armed strength that enabled it to take a strong stand against the Soviet Union in the Cuba crisis.

Eisenhower also told 10,000 cheering Republicans at a dinner Monday night that GOP leaders had helped spur President Kennedy to forceful action.

Although tensions are now eased, the Republican leader said, "We have no reason to relax" and the Soviet threat "We will bury you" still stands.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking re-election, shared the platform at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium with Eisenhower, who has been campaigning through the country in support of GOP candidates.

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

MOSCOW (AP)—Vera N. Pashennaya, 76, one of the Soviet Union's leading actresses, died Sunday, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. Miss Pashennaya, a Moscow stage star before the 1917 Bolshevik revolution, became a "people's artist of the Soviet Union."

Horse Pulling Draws 1,000

About 1,000 saw the fourth annual horse pulling contest held Saturday afternoon at Wellsville's Central Park by the Wellsville Feed & Supply Co. and city merchants.

The first-place winner in the heavyweight division for teams weighing over 3,000 pounds was William Eckels of Washington, Pa. His team pulled a sled with 9,000 pounds of the full regulation distance of 22½ feet.

Second was Dale Rudibaugh of Wellsville, whose team pulled 9,000 pounds 8 feet, 6 inches. Third was Earl Anderson of Industry, whose team pulled 8,500 pounds one foot, 6 inches, and fourth was James Barber of Mechanics-town, whose team pulled 8,500 pounds 4 inches.

Dick Rudibaugh of Lisbon was first in the lightweight division for teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds. His team pulled 8,500 pounds 3 feet, 6 inches.

Second was Dale Rudibaugh, pulling 8,500 pounds 3 feet, while a team owned by Dale Arnold of Uhrichsville pulled 7,500 pounds 18 feet, 6 inches. Fourth was Dean Groves of Bloomfield, whose team pulled 7,500 pounds 3 feet, 2 inches.

The prizes in each division were $40 for first, $30 for second, $20 for third and $10 for fourth.

Dale Rudibaugh donated all his winnings to the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge for its annual community Halloween party Wednesday night.

Psychologist Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. J. Fredrick Gudernatsch, 81, a psychologist and endocrinologist for more than 50 years, died Sunday. Gudernatsch, who was born in Germany, came to this country in 1907 and taught at Cornell University Medical College until 1920. He was a member of the Arctic Aero-Medical Bibliograph Service at Cornell Medical College between 1950 and 1959 when he retired.

DiSalle Gives Answers To Republican Official

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has been asking a lot of questions during his re-election campaign, took 30 minutes at a Democratic rally to answer some queries by a local Republican official.

DiSalle, whose campaign strategy included asking State Auditor James A. Rhodes, the Republican candidate, to answer a list of questions, declared angrily Monday night that the queries posed in an earlier speech by Ambrose Lindhorst, Hamilton County GOP executive committee chairman, were "designed to furnish no answers." He later asked Lindhorst some questions of his own.

Lindhorst's questions concerned the Liquor Department scandal; DiSalle's commuting of the death sentence of Mrs. Edythe Klumpp, convicted Cincinnati murderess; a law suit filed against Highway Director Everett Preston and corruption charges brought against DiSalle's administration during the Democratic primary campaign last Spring.

"It was I who called the special grand jury about the rumors (of the Liquor Department scandal) published in the newspapers," DiSalle said. "And it was I who insisted upon a Republican counsel for this grand jury. Now the man who made the charges has disappeared. Does Mr. Lindhorst know that Mr. (Joseph) Makler held meetings with my opponent long before the charges were made public?"

The controversy was touched off by newspaper reports that Makler, a Chicago distillery official, was asked to make payoffs to a Dayton firm to get his whisky brands sold in Ohio's state liquor stores.

In response to Lindhorst's question asking why Mrs. Klumpp was still in prison if DiSalle thought her innocent, the governor said:

"I have reasons for believing her (Mrs. Klumpp) but not enough to commute her sentence any further." He said William Bergen, husband of the murder victim and Mrs. Klumpp's lover before the 1958 killing, had lied and that new evidence showed the murder did not occur where, at the time of the trial, it was believed to have taken place.

DiSalle said the suit against Preston involves a transaction that occurred prior to Preston's appointment and has nothing to do with the Highway Department. Turning to the corruption charges attributed to his primary election opponent, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, the governor snapped:

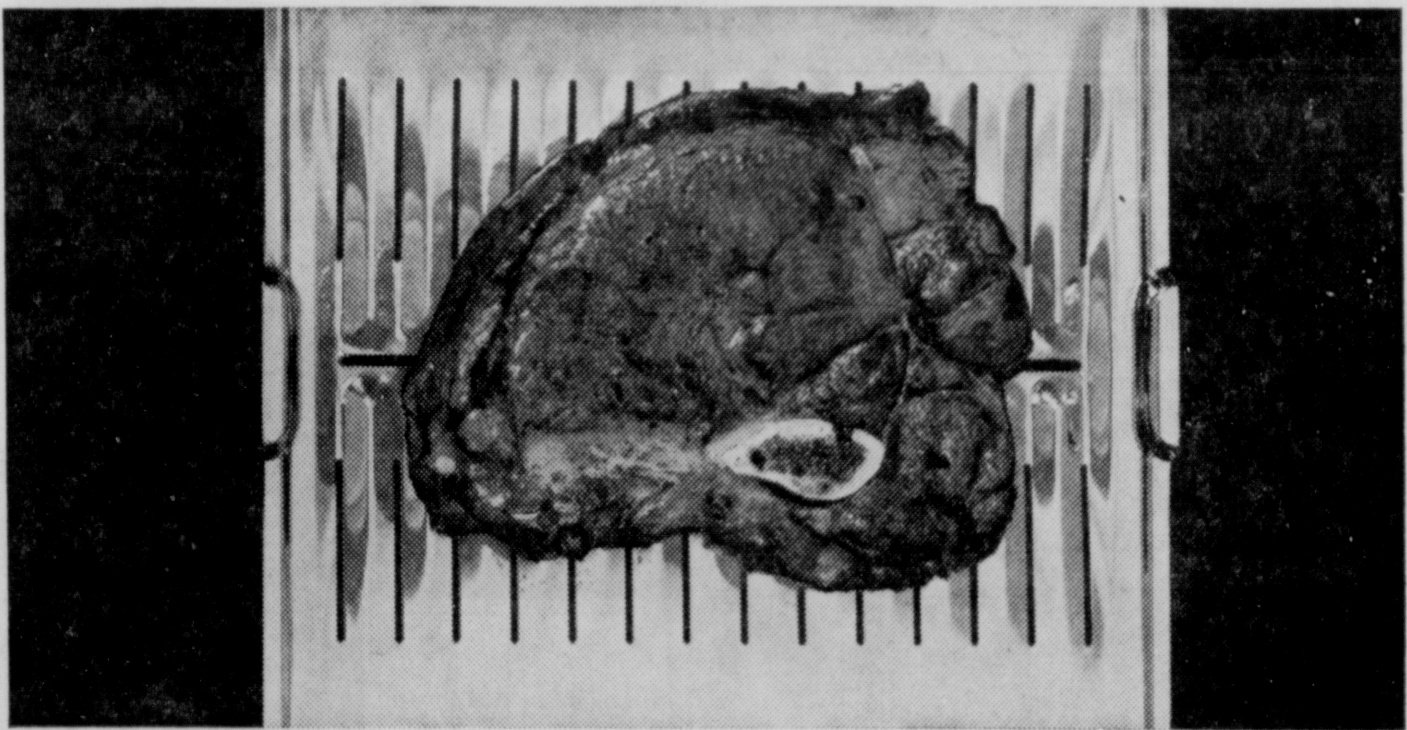

"There are two people who can determine that—the attorney general and the state auditor. If the auditor (Rhodes) knows of corruption, he has the responsibility to tell the people where this till was and which hand was in it."

Ad Figure Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Stanley Burnet Resor, 83, retired head of the advertising firm of J. Walter Thompson Co., died Monday. Resor, who joined the firm in 1908, served as president from 1916 to 1955 and chairman from 1955 until his retirement last year. He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio.
